Looking for a way to implement FPIN programming faster and more effectively?

Consider an onsite workshop at YOUR residency program!

- Most participants will be at least 50-60% complete with a first draft by the end of the workshop! Manuscripts are generally published in 6-12 months.
- Cost starts at $5,950 – ASK ABOUT AVAILABLE SCHOLARSHIPS

What does the onsite writing workshop include?

- Half day (4.5 hours) of facilitated writing conducted onsite at your institution
- Experienced faculty presenter providing step-by-step guidance
- Custom curriculum, focusing on faculty mentoring and/or resident writing
- Completed literature search/topic selection for participants, limiting the program's workshop preparation time
- Time management & implementation: Teaching tried-and-true techniques from across the consortium

How can your program benefit from an onsite workshop?

A writing workshop focuses on teaching authors how to critically appraise the best and most current evidence. Our faculty presenters walk authors through the writing process in a systematic, step-by-step way. Through an experiential learning process, authors learn how to critically appraise the literature and write GEMs and/or HelpDesk Answer manuscripts for publishing.

Who teaches the onsite workshop?

The FPIN faculty presenters teaching our workshops are experienced FPIN authors and editors. Our presenters have published FPIN manuscripts on their own and with their program faculty and residents. Most presenters are also editors for FPIN, which means they are experienced with reviewing and editing manuscripts. At an FPIN workshop, authors will receive outstanding leadership and guidance from faculty presenters who know the challenges of finding time for scholarly activity and have successfully integrated FPIN programming in their own programs.
